

Toshiaki Imaoka

Owner, President, Brewmaster

Toshiaki Imaoka is the 3rd generation Brewmaster and President of his family's brewery. Unlike many breweries that have been handed down for many generations, Imaoka-san's grandfather took over the brewery from the original owners when it was going bankrupt. With his father, "Toshi" has brought the brewery even farther, making Izumo Fuji a rising star in the sake world.

Toshiaki Imaoka operates the Fuji Brewery independently with just 3 kurabito, or brewery workers, and produces 300 koku (1 koku = 1800L), the Japanese measurement for brewery size.
