There is a sense this red is holding back, yet the core of cherry and raspberry fruit is seductive, framed by a luscious texture, lively acidity and refined tannins. It's oak treatment is also nicely meshed, with a slight dusty feel on the earth- and spice-tinged finish.

The 2021 Clos Vougeot Grand Cru (Domaine Louis Jadot) has turned out very well, exhibiting aromas of sweet cherries, berries, petals and spices, framed by toasty new oak. Medium to full-bodied, ample and layered, it's deep and muscular, with fine balance and a penetrating finish. This cuvée is now harvested in two picks, one week or so apart, instead of all in the same day.

The 2021 Clos de Vougeot Grand Cru has a rather stoic nose, with backward, light red berry fruit laced with decaying leaves that gradually unfurl in the glass. The palate is medium bodied with pliant tannins, good density, dark berry fruit laced with orange rind and a pinch of white pepper. It misses the length and grace on the finish that a more benevolent season would bring. Fine.

Perfumed, fruit-driven aromas of fresh raspberries, blood oranges and citrus peel with fresh flowers and cherry blossoms. The palate is textural and grippy yet refined and polished, leading to a robust, rounded mouthfeel with savory mineral undertones. Really vibrant and energetic with a balance of liveliness and power. Very good.

Beautiful clarity with layers of roses, pink peppercorns, sandalwood and cherry stones, interlaced with hints of chocolate and walnuts. It's medium-bodied, in line with the vintage, with sleek and tight-grained tannins. Refined Clos Vougeot.
