2022 VINTAGE EN PRIMEUR BARREL TASTING

MAISON LOUIS JADOT

TIMELINE

THE 2022 VINTAGE ~ CÔTE D'OR

VINTAGE REPORT:

The winter of 2021 – 2022 alternated between mild and cold periods while remaining essentially dry. During the second half of March Spring set in causing fears of a repeat of the nightmare scenario of 2021, where budbreak occurred early and was followed by three nights of devastating frosts. Mild conditions continued into early April until temperatures dipped with several frosts between the third and tenth of the month, however conditions thankfully remained dry. Only the most advanced parcels were affected, and since the vine's growth cycle was a full week behind that of 2021, widespread damage was avoided.

THE WEATHER

Temperatures in April then returned to a level slightly above the norm, and in May the weather became quite hot. Occasional rains accelerated the growth cycle and flowering occurred in the final weeks of the month. The flowering was abundant and finished quickly, promising an even ripening of the bunches to come. The pace of growth quickened, and the grapes began to swell.

June remained hot but there was considerable rainfall, particularly towards the end of the month. Some storms were quite heavy to the point of causing soil erosion in certain parcels which would need to be repaired in Autumn. This rainfall was key to the vegetative growth cycle in 2022 – without the replenishment of water levels at the end of June, vines would have struggled at harvest.

Veraison began during the first ten days of July in some of the earliest sectors, but with no rainfall for the entire month this pace slowed. Over the course of the Summer the region was subject to no less than four significant heatwaves. However, the vines coped well showing none of the stress brought on by similar conditions in 2020. The high temperatures and lack of rainfall did cause the vines to shut down, bringing the ripening process to a halt.

The August nights were warm through mid-month until a few scattered thundershowers reached the Côte bringing a real sense of change. The harvest began on August 30th. The grapes were very healthy (except for a few berries showing signs of oidium) and this validated our ongoing work towards organic certification in all our vineyards. Triage, as grapes arrived at the winery, was basically unnecessary. The harvest period was quite hot and managing the temperatures of both picked fruit and fermenting must became key to creating quality wines in this vintage. Yields were excellent for the red wines and healthy for the whites.

The 2022 vintage was one of the hottest and driest ever seen in Burgundy, like 2003 and even 1947. However, the vines were able to easily meet this challenge. The Jadot team believes that our vineyards are adapting to climate change, and the experience of 2022 provides hope that this is indeed the case.

THE WINES

WHITE: The level of ripeness is high but not overblown. Starting to pick in August retained some acidity in the grapes. The aromas are very expressive, suggesting that we have been able to capture a good level of complexity.

RED: The wines are deeply colored without being as inky as those of 2018 or 2020, a sign that hydric stress was managed well. The dark grapes have excellent ripeness, but like the whites are not excessive. Modest acidities place emphasis upon the silky tannic textures. The fruit shows a nice complexity and density, and promises wines of great freshness.

FRÉDÉRIC BARNIER | TECHNICAL DIRECTOR, MAISON LOUIS JADOT

Frédéric Barnier graduated with a degree in Engineering at the Agronomic School of Montpellier and completed his education in 1999 with an Oenologist's National Diploma.

Following his graduation, he joined “Château de Chassagne-Montrachet” where he undertook various duties that included vineyard management and vinification. In 2004, he took charge of the entire estate and its wine production. Frédéric joined Maison Louis Jadot in March 2010, as Technical Director, under the advisement of Jacques Lardière. Frédéric and Jacques had the perfect working relationship with a shared vision of winemaking. Currently, Frédéric manages the winemaking team at the facilities in Chablis, Givry and “La Sablière” in Beaune with the philosophy: no compromise on quality and ever greater control over raw materials.

SELECT VINEYARD OWNERSHIP

HÉRITIERS LOUIS JADOT

	ACRES		ACRES
Beaune Boucherottes, 1^{er} Cru	6.23	Corton, Grand Cru	0.47
Divided from Pommard by only a footpath, this is the largest of the Héritiers Louis Jadot holdings. Its rich, deep soils yield a wine of similar richness and depth.		The commune of Aloxe-Corton, above Pernand Vergelesses at the northern end of Côte de Beaune, has the unusual distinction of having over half its area covered in Grand Cru vineyards.
Beaune Bressandes, 1^{er} Cru	2.37	Corton-Charlemagne, Grand Cru	4.62
Near the northern end of the commune where the soils are comparatively light and sandy, this vineyard produces wines of great delicacy and finesse.		Acquired in 1914, this most-celebrated white wine vineyard is situated at the summit of the imposing hill of Corton. The Corton-Charlemagne of Maison Louis Jadot is considered to be the standard by which all others are judged.
Beaune Chouacheux, 1^{er} Cru	0.91	Corton-Pougets, Grand Cru	2.97
Adjacent to Vignes Franches and Boucherottes, this vineyard produces, a full-bodied, aromatic wine characteristic of Beaune's southern vineyards.		The checkerboard soils of Aloxe-Corton result in the unique occurrence of a red Grand Cru vineyard lying within a few feet of a white Grand Cru, a phenomenon found nowhere else in the Côte d'Or. This parcel was purchased with the Corton-Charlemagne parcel adjacent to it.
Beaune Clos des Couchereaux, Aux Coucheries, 1^{er} Cru	5.04	Pernand-Vergelesses Clos de la Croix de Pierre, Monopole, En Caradeux, 1^{er} Cru	3.93
Héritiers Louis Jadot acquired this parcel in 1836, and remains the largest proprietor within the Clos des Couchereaux vineyard. At the summit of the hill above Beaune, it benefits from superb southern exposure.		En Caradeux is situated on the western slope, in front of the Grand Crus of the hill of Corton. The vineyard of Clos de la Croix de Pierre, marked by the stone cross for which it is named, is solely owned by Maison Louis Jadot.
Beaune Clos des Ursules Monopole, Vignes Franches, 1^{er} Cru	6.80	Puligny-Montrachet Les Folatières, 1^{er} Cru	0.59
Purchased in 1826, this superb vineyard once owned by the Convent of the Ursulines for which it is named, may produce the finest wine of the commune. It is wholly owned by Héritiers Louis Jadot.		A later acquisition, this small holding lies in one of Puligny-Montrachet's largest 1 ^{er} Crus, overlooking Les Perrières, Les Combettes and the village of Puligny below.
Beaune Theurons, 1^{er} Cru	2.27
This early acquisition, purchased in the 1830s, lies in the heart of the commune, producing a quintessential Beaune, balancing elegance and full body.
Chevalier-Montrachet Les Demoiselles, Grand Cru	1.28
This Héritiers Louis Jadot property lies within Chevalier-Montrachet at the crest of the hill of Montrachet. Jadot is one of two equal owners of this tiny, exquisite parcel.

DOMAINE LOUIS JADOT

	ACRES		ACRES
Beaune Clos du Roi, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.99	Chassagne-Montrachet Les Embazées, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.30
Beaune Grèves, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.86	Chassagne-Montrachet Morgeot, 1 ^{er} Cru	2.49
Beaune Les Avaux, 1 ^{er} Cru	3.53	Maison Louis Jadot was very fortunate to purchase red and white acreage of Chassagne Morgeot. Planted on a leaner soil than the Morgeots of Abbaye, it imparts more vibrancy and raciness to its wines.
This large contiguous parcel, formerly a holding of Domaine Champy, produces a classic balanced Beaune 1 ^{er} Cru.		Clos Vougeot, Grand Cru	5.31
Beaune Vignes Franches, 1 ^{er} Cru	2.37	The majority of this sizeable holding formerly belonged to Domaine Champy, with a smaller parcel acquired through the purchase of Domaine Clair Daü. Maison Louis Jadot controls an additional 1.73 acres in Clos Vougeot through a long-term contract, placing it among the 5 or 6 most important producers in this famed Grand Cru.
Bonnes-Mares, Grand Cru	0.67	Corton Les Grèves, Grand Cru	1.09
At the northern extremity of Chambolle-Musigny, this considerable holding was once part of Domaine Clair Daü. In contrast to Le Musigny, it produces wines of greater density and dimension.		Les Grèves, in Aloxe-Corton, is situated in the center of the commune midway up the southeasterly-exposed part of the slope. In 1995, Domaine Louis Jadot purchased 1.09 of Les Grèves' 5.73 acres which yields a full, masculine wine typical of this great Grand Cru.
Chambertin Clos-de-Bèze, Grand Cru	1.04	Côte de Nuits Villages, Lieu dit Le Vaucrain, (Rouge)	10.33
This famed Grand Cru is generally considered to surpass Le Chambertin, which adjoins it, in quality. This substantial parcel is the centerpiece of the extensive former Clair Daü holdings in the commune of Gevrey-Chambertin.		Echézeaux, Grand Cru	0.86
Chambolle-Musigny Les Amoureuses, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.30	Echézeaux covers 93 acres in 11 vineyard sites clustered around Grands-Echézeaux. Domaine Louis Jadot is a proprietor of .86 acres in Echézeaux purchased in 1995 which yields a classically robust complex Grand Cru.
This last of the former Clair Daü properties in Chambolle-Musigny is situated adjacent to Le Musigny in the commune's finest and best known 1 ^{er} Cru, known for its delicacy and breed.		Gevrey-Chambertin Clos Saint-Jacques, 1 ^{er} Cru	2.47
Chambolle-Musigny Les Feusselottes, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.35	Of considerable size, this parcel lies within Gevrey-Chambertin's most famous 1 ^{er} Cru at the summit of the commune's slope.
This small but highly coveted vineyard is located in the eastern part of the village of Chambolle-Musigny. Different from the other 1 ^{er} Crus, Les Amoureuses, Les Fuées and Les Baudes, which are delicate and aromatic wines, the wines of Feusselottes are quite powerful and deeply colored. They come from a very deep and heavy soil, quite contrary to that of the other legendary wines produced in this commune.		Gevrey-Chambertin Combe aux Moines, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.42
Chambolle-Musigny Les Fuées, 1 ^{er} Cru	1.01	A small but prestigious holding, Combe aux Moines is often considered Gevrey-Chambertin's finest 1 ^{er} Cru.
"Fuées" is an old French word for the labor a man could complete in a day. This is a beautiful vineyard, situated near Bonnes Mares with due eastern exposure; the closely underlying rock bed lends the wine great strength and color. Somewhat atypical for Chambolle-Musigny in its youth, the wine's firm structure develops beautifully, and maintains a strong, appealing structure.		Gevrey-Chambertin Lavaux Saint-Jacques, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.54
Chapelle-Chambertin, Grand Cru	0.96	Exposed due south, the Lavaux vineyard adjoins the famous Clos Saint-Jacques, and customarily adds this name to its own.
Separated from Clos-de-Bèze by a footpath, this Grand Cru is named for the small chapel which stands at its edge and contains the oldest Pinot Noir vines within the Jadot portfolio.		Gevrey-Chambertin Les Cazetiers, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.30
		This tiny vineyard parcel lies within the most extensive of Gevrey-Chambertin's 1 ^{er} Crus.

This superb vineyard, acquired in 1993, sited on an amphitheater-like plot near the top of the slope of En la Fée, is approximately 85% Pinot Noir and 15% Chardonnay. This vineyard yields both a seductive red and a unique, earthy white wine.
Gevrey-Chambertin, Poissenots, 1 ^{er} Cru	0.47	Savigny-lès-Beaune	2.82

CHABLIS

LOUIS JADOT

CHABLIS, FOURCHAUME, 1ER CRU

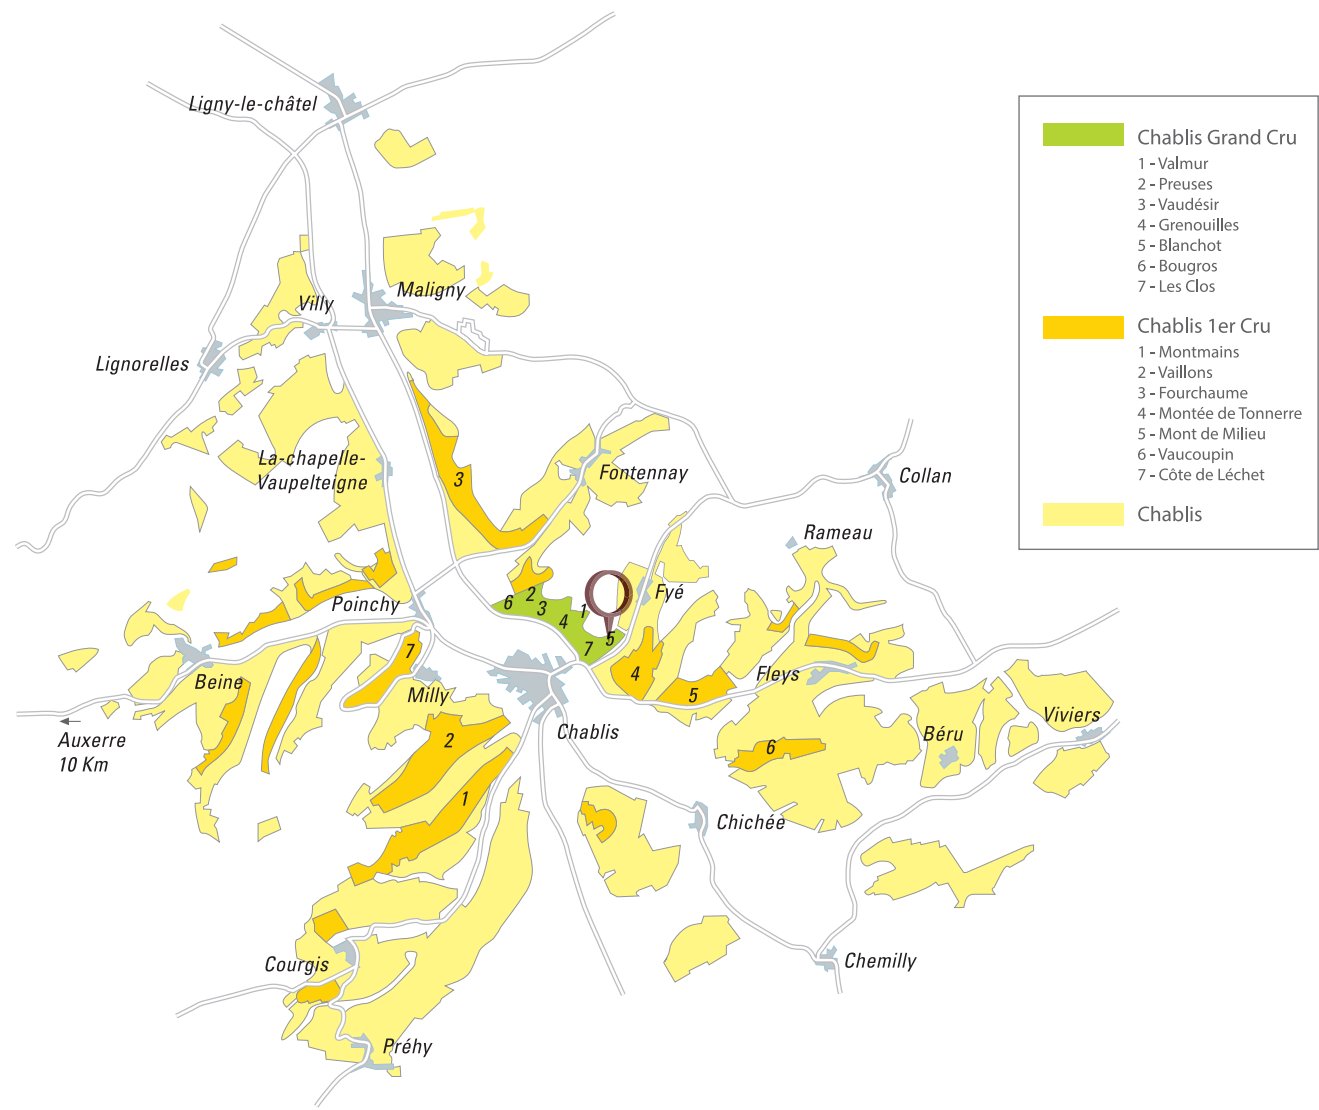

Fourchaume is produced from an 8,000 acre vineyard, of which there are 40 Premier Cru climats – this size represents 20% of the total Burgundy Premier Crus. The continental climate (very cold in winter and hot in the summer with frosts in spring) and the marly limestone soils combine to shape the unique character of Chablis wines.

This juice is fermented in stainless steel tanks (50%) and in wooden barrels like all Grand Crus from the Côte d'Or area. The wine is then aged in barrels over 15-18 months before bottling (usually about 30% new oak).

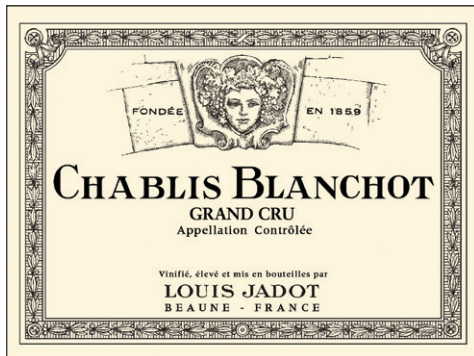

Pale in color with a silvery rim. The nose is floral, with notes of honeysuckle and lime leaf. The palate is taut but shows the vintage's typical balance of opulent ripeness and lively acidity.

CHABLIS

CHABLIS, BLANCHOT, GRAND CRU

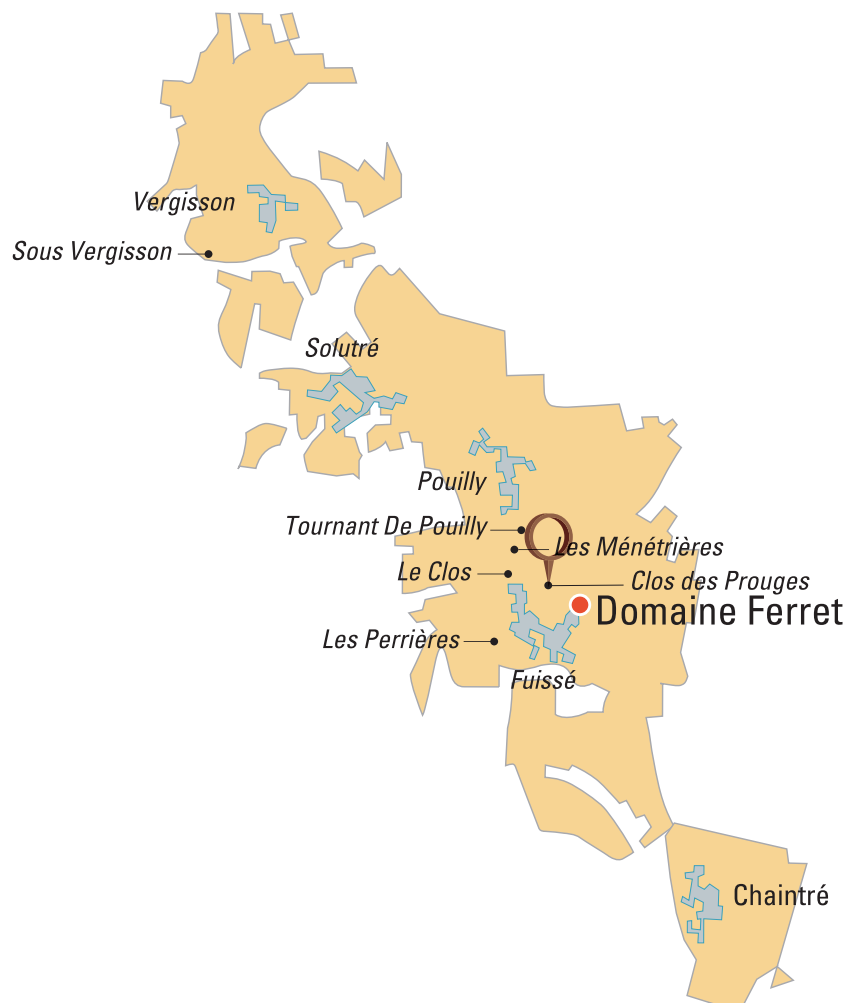

With 100% Chardonnay grapes, Blanchot is one of the seven climats that can be called Grand Cru in Chablis. The vineyard is situated on the right side of Le Serein River, on the hill, with an eastern orientation. This location gives a strong and full-bodied character to the wine. The continental climate (very cold in winter and hot in the summer with frosts in spring) and the marly limestone soils combine to shape the unique character of Chablis wines.

This juice is fermented in wooden barrels, like all Jadot's Grand Crus from the Côte d'Or area, and also aged in barrels over 15-18 months before bottling (usually about 30% new oak).

Bright color with a hint of pale gold, this wine has plenty of weight and rich texture on the palate. Picked at optimal ripeness, the aromas are what you would expect, simply intoxicating. The palate shows great balance.

POUILLY-FUISSÉ

LOUIS JADOT

DOMAINE FERRET, POUILLY-FUISSÉ, CLOS DES PROUGES

This Clos is located in the heart of Fuissé. A 5 acre vineyard on a soft slope with east orientation, the soil contains limestone marls. A third of the vines were planted in 2006, a third in 1986 and a third in 1956. Fermentation and ageing took place in barrels: a third in new barrels, a third in 1-year-old barrels and a third in 2-year-old barrels over 9 months. Ageing is then finished in stainless steel tanks on lees over a 5 month span.

Velvety and expressive, this Clos des Prouges develops aromas of fern and oak moss. It is rich in style, a characteristic of Fuissé wines. It has a remarkable mouth feel and roundness, an overall fleshy and juicy wine. Great ageing potential.

POUILLY-FUISSÉ

LOUIS JADOT

DOMAINE FERRET, POUILLY-FUISSÉ, LES PERRIÈRES, 1ER CRU

Located in the southern Mâcon at the edge of viticultural “calcaire” Burgundy, the terroirs of Fuissé are capable of producing white wines that rival the best of the Côte des Blancs. A magnificent amphitheater of vines, beneath the imposing rock formations Solutré and Vergisson, offers ideal subsoils and a range of slope sites along with the slightly warmer growing season here at the traditional “gateway to the south.”

Les Perrières is a site of about 1 hectare, located mid-slope on a hillside in Fuissé. Vines average 35 years of age, soils here are alluvial silt and clay over streaks of limestone. The wine is powerful and generous, with explosive aromas of honeysuckle and candied citrus, while on the palate the impression is bold yet refined with a saline and wet stone aspect providing a lovely backdrop to the fireworks in the foreground.

LOUIS JADOT

SANTENAY, MALADIÈRE, DOMAINE PRIEUR-BRUNET, 1ER CRU

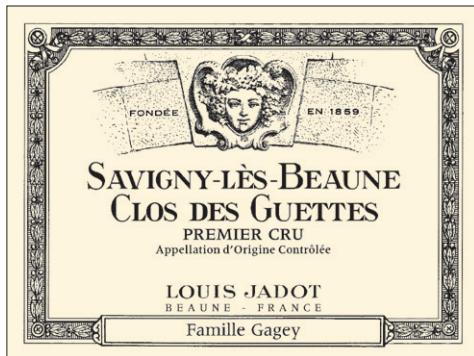

This is a recently acquired parcel of just over 12 acres in the prime Santenay terroir of Maladière. These vines came with the 2017 acquisition by Jadot of Domaine Prieur-Brunet, and this wine comes to market with that traditional Domaine label. The site consists of a broad contiguous vineyard on a steep slope, with perfect southeast exposure, deep red clay soils and old vines. Necessary renovations are in progress in the vineyard, including this conversion of a small plot (1.2 acres) at the top of the slope to chardonnay. The subsoil here is somewhat thinner with more stones and the early morning sunlight ensures warm soils and prevents vine diseases. The 2022 vintage marks the debut of this new Premier Cru Santenay white wine, a welcome expansion to the fascinating range of whites in this newly dynamic appellation.

LOUIS JADOT

SAVIGNY-LÈS-BEAUNE, CLOS DES GUETTES, FAMILLE GAGEY, 1ER CRU

The commune of Savigny-Lès-Beaune is located between Beaune, Aloxe-Corton, and Pernand-Vergelesses, in the north of the Côte de Beaune. Savigny vineyards have south, south-east, east and north-east exposure and range from 220 to 360 meters altitude. Savigny's vineyards show two distinct soil types. Those to the north of the river Rhoin are rich in clay, producing full, structured wines; those to the south are gravelly, producing lighter, more elegant wines. The northern part, where the Clos des Guettes vineyard is situated, has a clay undersoil and therefore produces more powerful wines. The Clos des Guettes terroir is among the jewels of this appellation, with the potential for wines of finesse, complexity and depth that offer tremendous value and satisfaction immediately and for several years to come.

BEAUNE

LOUIS JADOT

BEAUNE, GRÈVES LE CLOS BLANC, FAMILLE GAGEY, 1ER CRU

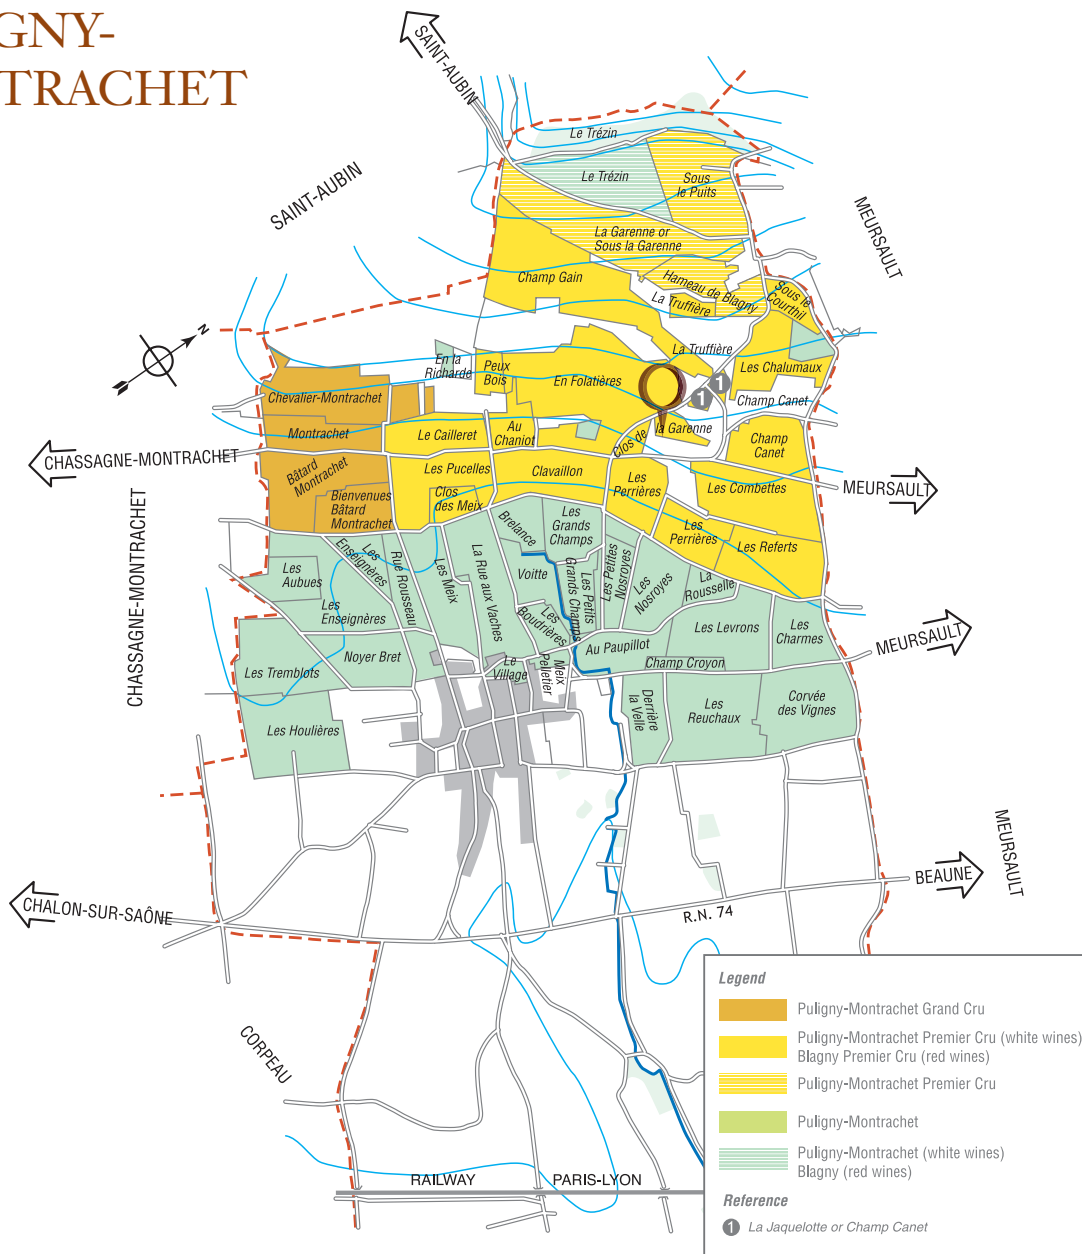

The vineyard of “Les Grèves” is located next to “Les Theurons”. These two vineyards are the largest of the 1er Crus in Beaune, with “Les Grèves” being the biggest at 84 acres in size. In the 1980’s André Gagey acquired just under 2.5 acres of Chardonnay vines in the vineyard, and has since been producing this wine.

Although all 1er Cru vineyards in Beaune can produce white and red wines, “Les Grèves” is rare in that the white and red are equal in status and quality. This wine is fermented in wooden barrels like all the Louis Jadot white wines, and then aged in barrels for 14 – 18 months before bottling.

This unusual rare and rather exotic white wine is full, rich and spicy, with broad fruit flavors and exceptional depth offset by notes of almonds, earth and gently toasted oak.

PULIGNY- MONTRACHET

LOUIS JADOT

PULIGNY-MONTRACHET, CLOS DE LA GARENNE,
DUC DE MAGENTA, 1ER CRU

Puligny-Montrachet, situated to the south of Meursault and to the north of Chassagne-Montrachet, shares with Chassagne a handful of the greatest white wine vineyards in the world. The Premier Cru vineyards of Puligny-Montrachet, noted for the exceptional high and consistent quality of the wines they produce, stretches across the upper half of the Puligny slope, from Meursault to Chassagne.

The Clos de la Garenne parcel of just over two acres is a virtual monopole of the Duc de Magenta family and a key element of the successful long-term cooperation with Maison Louis Jadot. This terroir features exceptionally old vines and lies at the confluence of legendary Premier Crus Clavaillon, Folatières, and Combettes. Soils are well-drained chalky marls with pebbles on an ideal mid-slope exposure.

The wine is typically dense and concentrated with complex unfolding layers of alternate fruit, floral, and earth tones. There is a fine balance between tension and opulence which lends a profound presence and versatility, and that suggests a bright and long future in the cellar.

The map illustrates the commune of Châtenoy-le-François, divided into numerous hamlets and regions. The northern part is colored orange and includes hamlets like Les Boulières, Les Citernes, Les Gréves, Les Perrières, Les Vercots, and Les Languettes. The central part is yellow and includes Les Charlemagne, Les Pourpels, Les Languettes, and Les Renardes. The southern part is pink and includes Les Boulières, Les Citernes, Les Gréves, Les Perrières, Les Vercots, Les Languettes, and Les Renardes. The map also shows the R.N. 74 road, the Aube river, and the commune boundaries with neighboring areas like Châtenoy-le-François, Châtenoy-le-Vin, and Châtenoy-le-Val.

LOUIS JADOT

CORTON-CHARLEMAGNE, HÉRITIERS LOUIS JADOT, GRAND CRU

The Corton-Charlemagne Grand Cru appellation is shared by two villages in the northern part of the Côte de Beaune: Aloxe-Corton and Pernand-Vergelesses. The village of Aloxe-Corton has the rare ability of having over half of its area covered by Grand Cru vineyards, and the exposure ranges from east to south and southwest.

This parcel is the upper section of the Grand Cru Corton-Pougets, acquired by the Héritiers Louis Jadot in 1914. Quite steep with white soils and abundant stones, this site benefits from full south exposure and perennial perfect ripeness. As with all Jadot whites this is fermented and aged in oak barrels for 18 months before bottling. New oak rarely exceeds 33% and the malolactic fermentation is controlled to ensure a lively acidity and energetic mouthfeel.

A wine of elegance and depth, Corton-Charlemagne is powerful and rich, with minerals and intense flavors of fruits and flowers and spicy aromas of pepper and cinnamon. Ageing this wine is key, as it can easily evolve over 10 – 20 years.

This is a newly acquired parcel of just over 12 acres in the prime Santenay terroir of Maladière. These vines came with the 2017 acquisition by Jadot of Domaine Prieur-Brunet, and this wine comes to market with that traditional Domaine label. The site consists of a broad contiguous vineyard on a steep slope, with perfect southeast exposure, deep red clay soils and old vines. Necessary renovations are in progress in the vineyard, however all the elements are in place for expressive and persuasive wines which elevate the stature of Santenay overall.

The site's connection to Santenay history as well as its central location among the prime premier crus assures the restoration to prominence of Maladière already in progress. In addition, this wine signifies Jadot's commitment to Santenay wines (both red and white) as offering undiscovered quality with compelling value.

BEAUNE, CLOS DES COUCHEREAUX, HÉRITIERS LOUIS JADOT, 1ER CRU

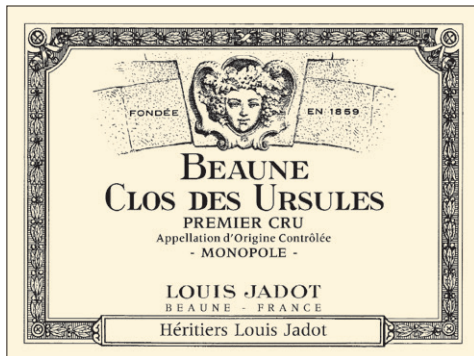

This magnificent parcel is unique among the Beaune Premier Cru climats. Situated within the larger Aux Coucheries Premier Cru (first recorded in 1380 as En Coichereal) it benefits from high elevation near the summit of the Beaune Mountain, deep clay soils, a steep slope, and full southern exposure. This typically results in grapes with ideal ripeness as well as refined acidity and tannic structure, and which when well managed in the cellar result in wines of ethereal grace and complexity.

BEAUNE

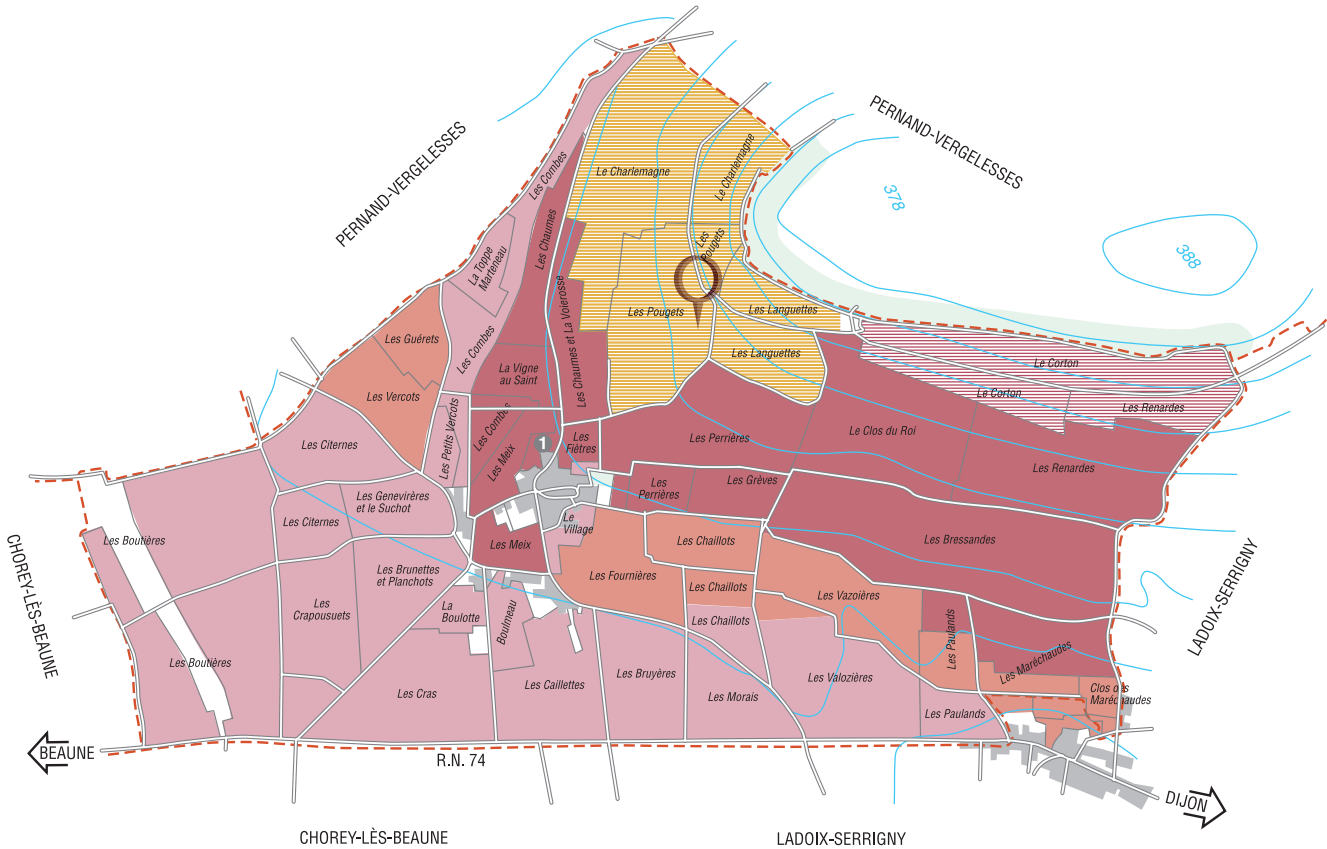

LOUIS JADOT

BEAUNE, CLOS DES URSULES, HÉRITIERS LOUIS JADOT, 1ER CRU

Clos des Ursules is a Jadot Monopole, dating to the inception of vineyard holdings acquired by Louis Henry Denis Jadot in 1826. A walled sub-climat of the Premier Cru Vignes Franches, this parcel had belonged to the convent of Saint-Ursule, a teaching order established in Beaune in 1626. The Clos des Ursules is the core gem of the Héritiers Louis Jadot portfolio, producing a wine of consistent excellence which, for the characteristic delicacy and suppleness of Vignes Franches, shows striking tannin and dimension. Full, firm and rich in ripe-berry flavors, its fine, slightly earthy bouquet and long, lush finish converge in a wine perfectly balancing elegance and power.

CORTON-POUGETS, HÉRITIERS LOUIS JADOT, GRAND CRU

The commune of Aloxe-Corton has the unusual distinction of having over half its area covered in Grand Cru vineyards. It has an exposure ranging from east to south and southwest.

The Grand Cru vineyard of “Les Pougets” is directly adjacent to Le Charlemagne climat, on the upper and mid-slope. It is among the five vineyards of the commune in which the variegated soils, alternating between chalk and iron-rich marl, produce both Corton-Pougets and Corton-Charlemagne. This wine is fermented in vats during 3 – 4 weeks and aged 18 – 20 months in oak barrels before bottling.

This exceptional site yields a wine of sumptuous brilliance and complexity, powerfully structured and richly fruited. The aromatic Pinot Noir bouquet and deep, layered berry and oak flavors culminate in a seductive, persistent finish. This wine should not be opened before five years and will certainly improve until 15 to 20 years. Louis Jadot is the sole remaining producer of Corton-Pougets Grand Cru, steadfastly refusing to replant to Corton-Charlemagne and instead maintaining a centuries-long historical legacy of Grand Cru red production.

LOUIS JADOT

GEVREY-CHAMBERTIN, CLOS SAINT-JACQUES,
DOMAINE LOUIS JADOT, 1ER CRU

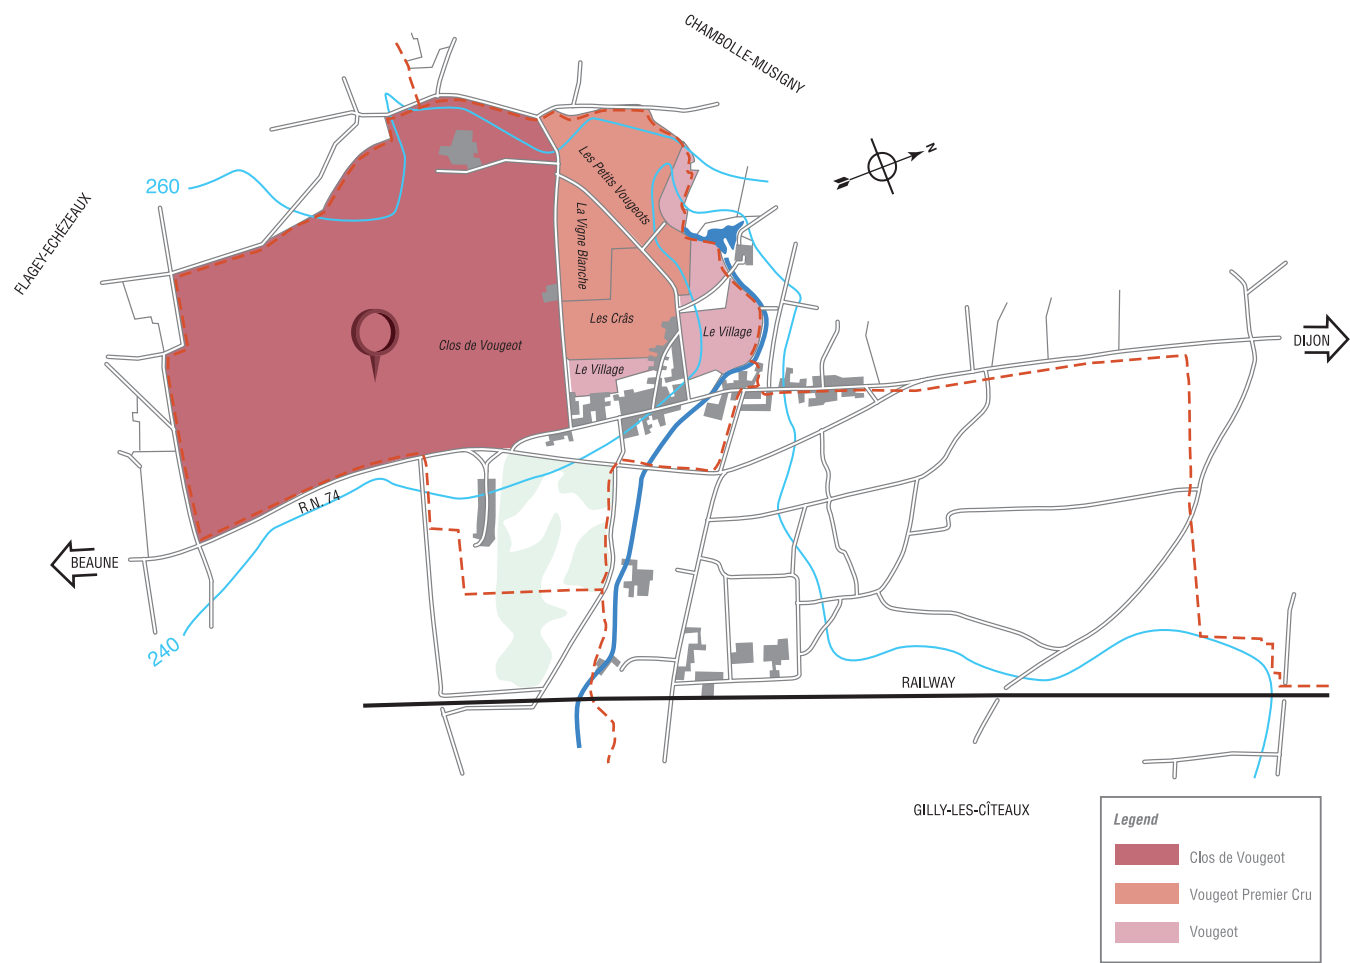

Gevrey-Chambertin is the northernmost of the great communes in the Cote de Nuits. It possesses 26 Premier Crus and 8 Grand Crus. Half of the Premier Crus surround the Grand Crus (near Morey Saint-Denis). The other half are located to the north in the “Combe” de Lavaux on a calcareous and clayish soil with quite a great deal of marls.

The “Clos Saint-Jacques” vineyard is located at the beginning of the valley called Combe de Lavaux and is south-east oriented. There are only 5 owners of this prestigious Clos, Jadot being one, which is considered to be one of the best of all 1er Crus in Gevrey. The wine is fermented in vats during 3 to 4 weeks and then aged in oak barrels for 18 to 20 months before bottling.

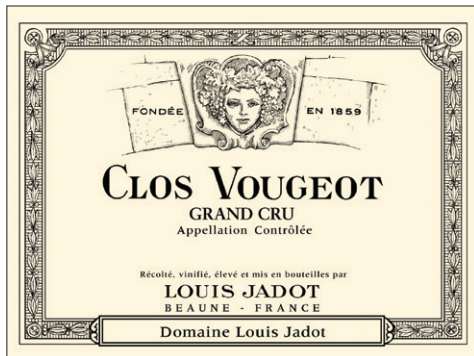

The Gevrey-Chambertin “Clos Saint-Jacques” is a full-bodied and complex wine. It shows a broad pallet of aromas, both powerful and elegant, with an impressive length in the mouth. This wine is able to keep for many years: 10 or more according to the storage conditions and in great vintages well over 40 years.

VOUGEOT

CLOS VOUGEOT, DOMAINE LOUIS JADOT, GRAND CRU

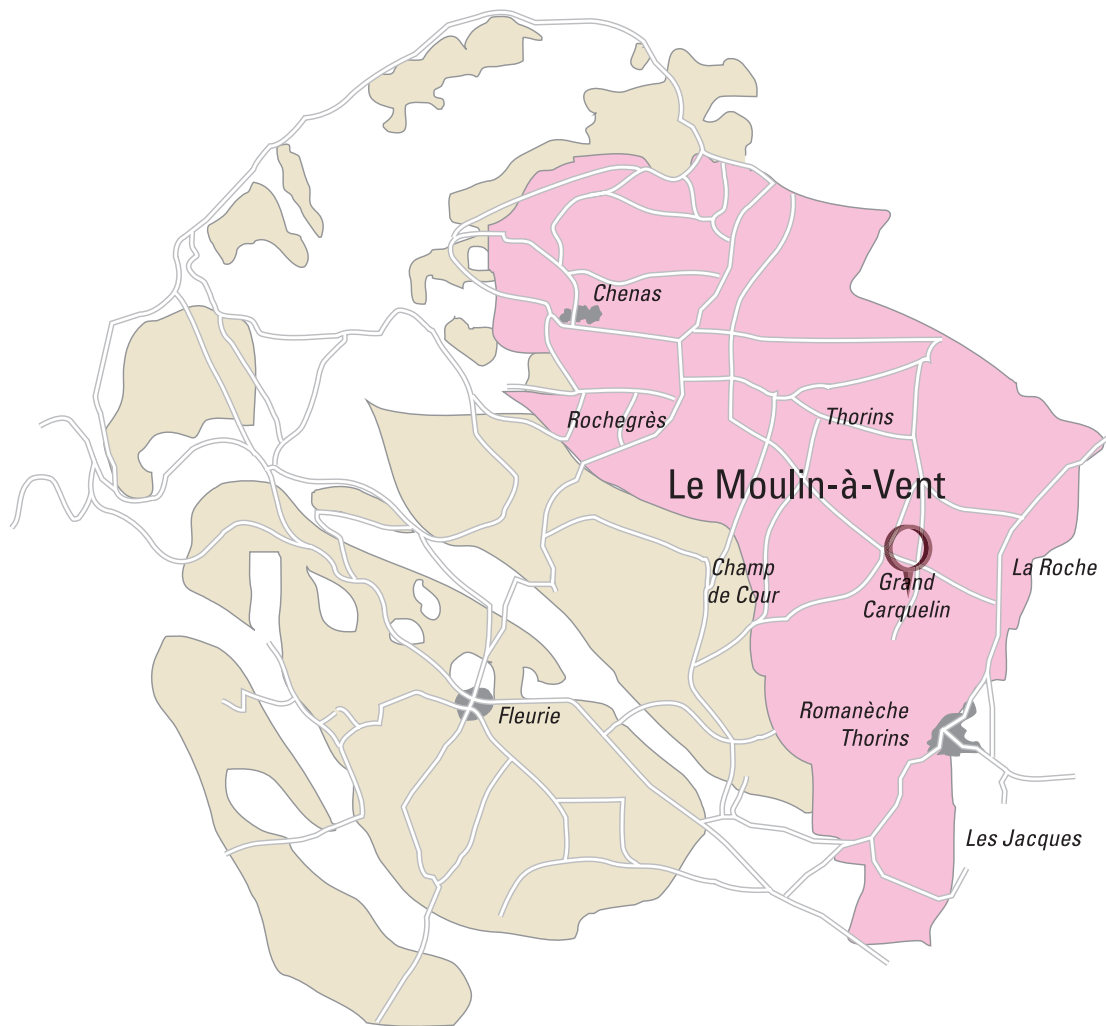

The Clos de Vougeot was founded in 1112 under the Cistercian order by St. Bernard de Clairvaux. The monks began with a few acres of vines and built a small chapel and pressing house on site. Over the following 200 years, many more vineyards were bestowed to the order. The wall enclosing the Clos was eventually constructed in 1336, but it wasn't until 1551 that construction of the Chateau du Clos de Vougeot started. The Clos stayed intact and with the Church until the French Revolution, and today, its 1,100 acres are divided amongst 70 owners.

Maison Louis Jadot is the second largest owner of the Clos Vougeot vineyard with a bit more than 5 acres, which were acquired in the 1980's. The fermentation (3 – 4 weeks) takes place in vats, after which the wine is aged in barrel for 18 months before bottling.

The Clos Vougeot is a wine of power and depth which retains an elegant complexity. It has a full fragrant and distinctly floral bouquet. This wine will easily age 15 to 25 years in perfect conditions of temperature and humidity.

MOULIN-À-VENT

CHÂTEAU DES JACQUES

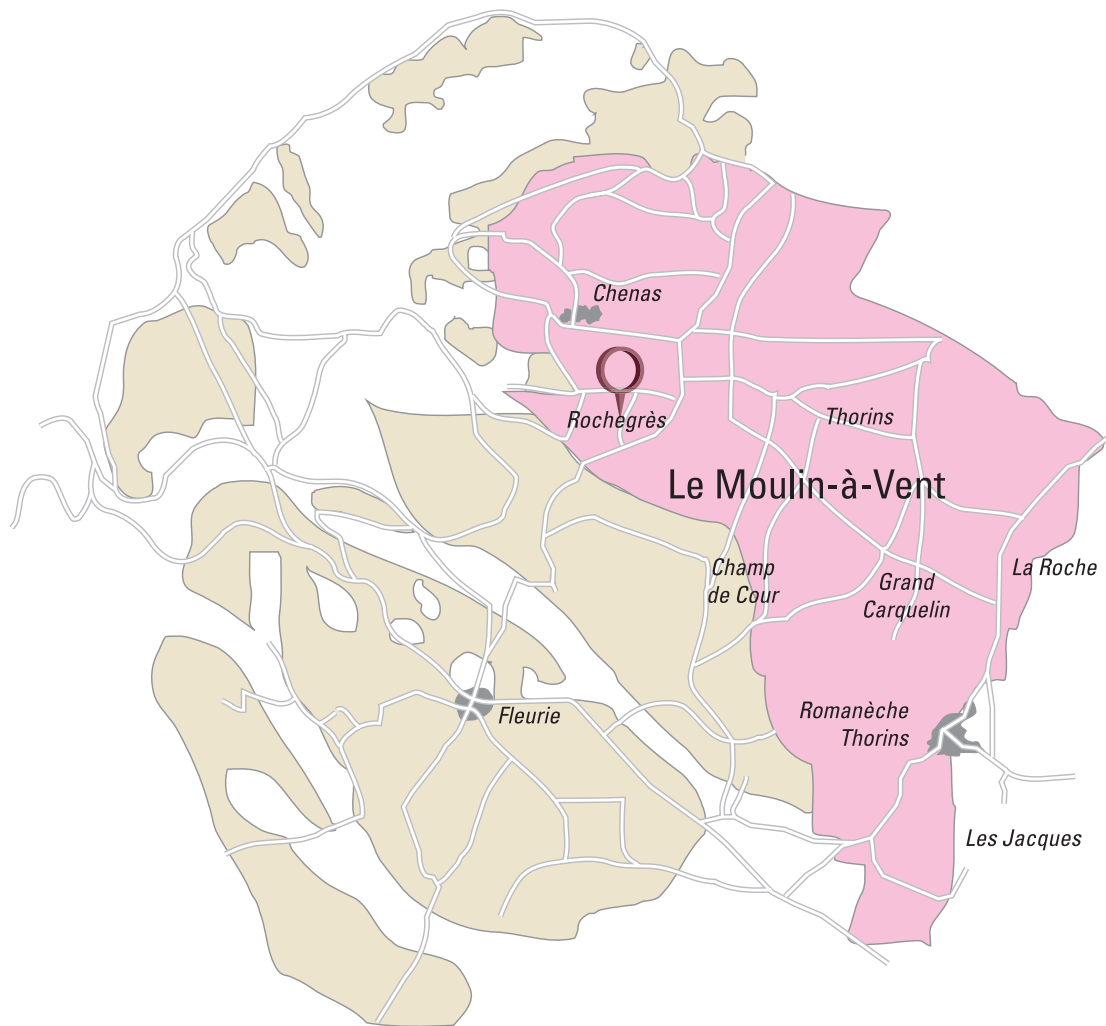

MOULIN-À-VENT, CLOS DU GRAND CARQUELIN

The Beaujolais Crus lie just south of the Maconnais where the subsoils turn from alluvial calcaire to older granites. Carquelin is situated on the south-facing slopes of Moulin-à-Vent, and this 4 hectare parcel features a selection of different types of granite, including quartz, grey granite and pink sandstone.

Picked and sorted by hand, then de-stemmed, the grapes macerate slowly over the course of three or four weeks. Indigenous yeasts are used throughout the fermentation period, and extraction by means of both plunging and pumping over takes place on a regular basis. The wines are aged in the historic cellar for 10 months, a period spent in oak barrels, 100% of which are new. The oak used to make the barrels comes from the forests of Allier, the Limousin and the Nivernais.

MOULIN-À-VENT

CHÂTEAU DES JACQUES

MOULIN-À-VENT, CLOS DE ROCHEGRÈS

Maison Louis Jadot purchased the historic Chateau des Jacques estate in 1996. A painstaking long-term project of replanting and re-orienting the 66 acres of vineyards continues, along with just-completed renovation of the cuverie, cellars and chateau. The single-climate wines within Moulin-à-Vent are especially fascinating examples of distinct terroir nuance sensitively guided from vineyard to bottle. These wines are capable of successful long-term aging to excellent effect.

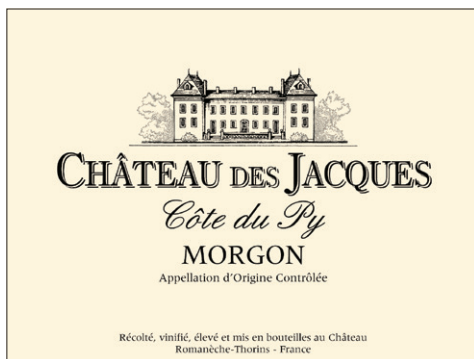

Rochegrès is a steep sub-climat of the Au Mont sector within Moulin-à-Vent. Subsoils here are shallow granite with quartz, and with a bit more clay compared to other nearby sites. Harvest here is usually delayed, allowing the grapes to develop a refined matrix of ripe fruit, spice and earth influences.

MORGON

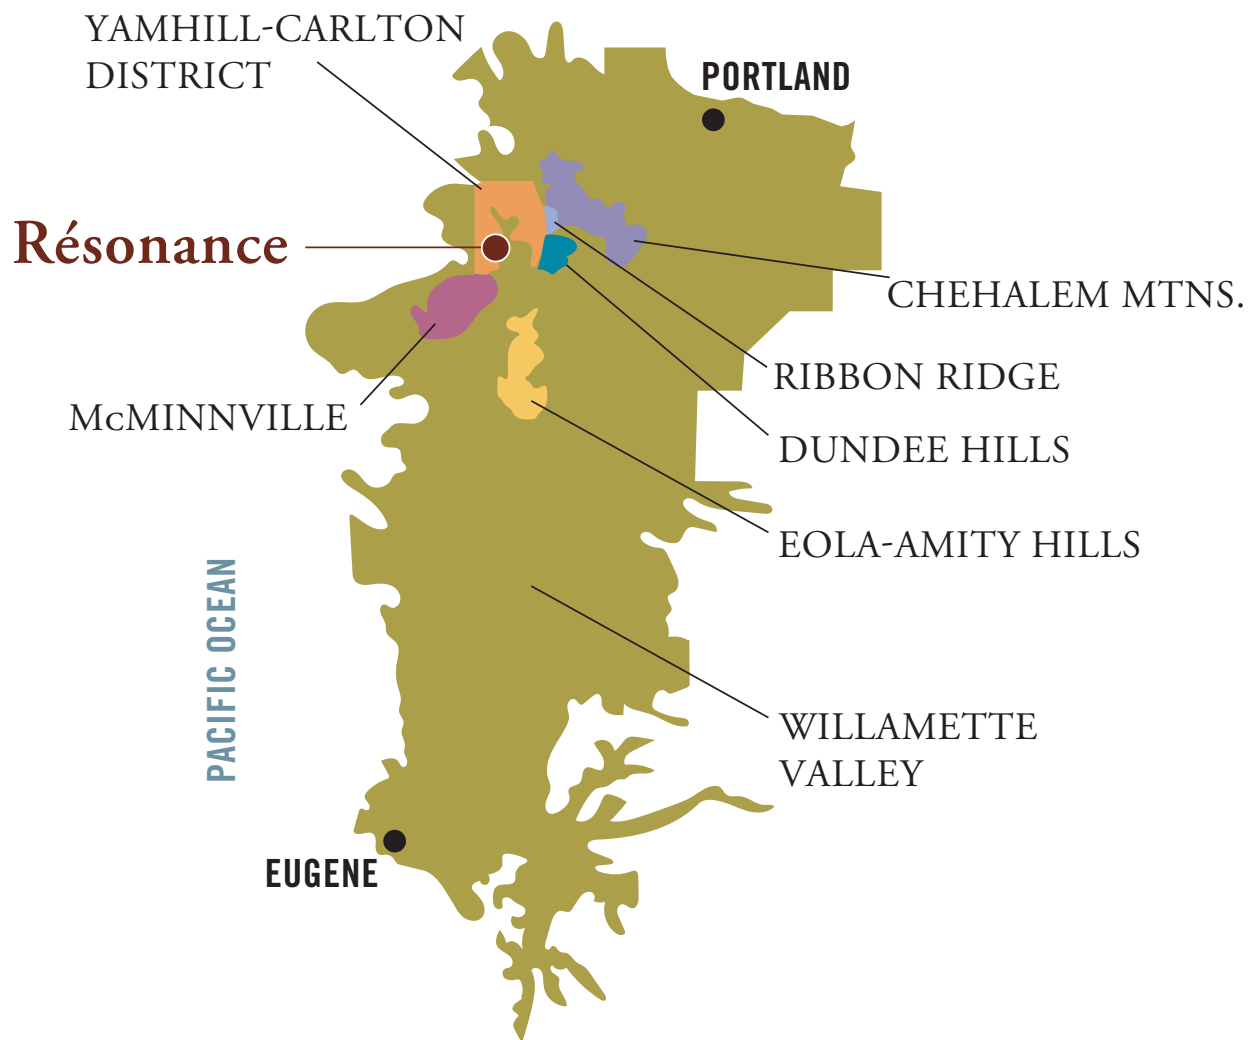

CHÂTEAU DES JACQUES

MORGON, CÔTE DU PY

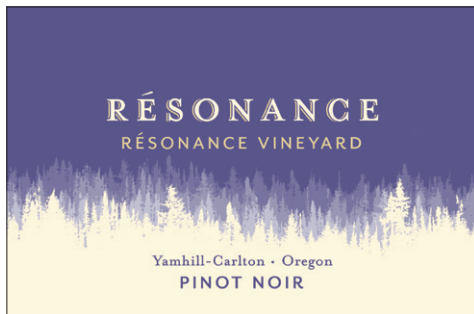

The Beaujolais Crus lie just south of the Maconnais where the subsoils turn from alluvial calcaire to older granites. Progressing further south to Morgon one finds the presence of blue schist and earlier volcanic influences, which tend to produce a slightly more structured, tannic, and darkly powerful wine. Great care is taken in vinification to avoid producing a harsh wine, and gentle management of the cuvée results in a wine that is both muscular yet fine and silky, enjoyable in youth while promising much for the future.

RÉSONANCE VINEYARD, YAMHILL-CARLTON

RÉSONANCE

RÉSONANCE VINEYARD PINOT NOIR, YAMHILL-CARLTON, OR

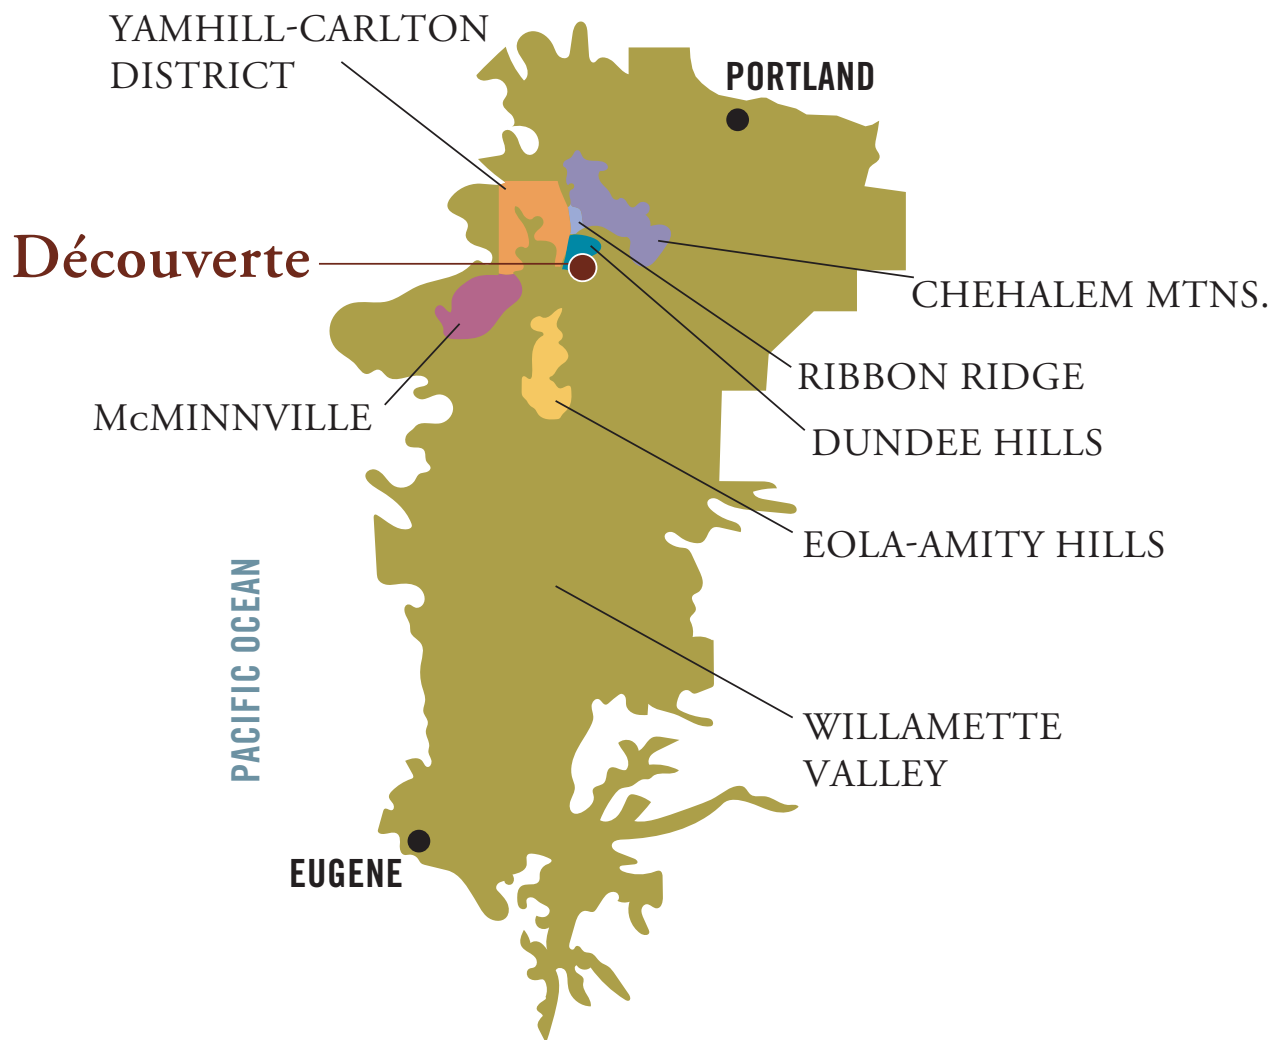

Planted in 1981 the 20-acre vineyard is organically dry-farmed and situated in the Yamhill Carlton AVA on a south-facing slope between 262 and 492 feet in elevation. The nearby peaks of the Coast Range break apart rain clouds as they come in from the Pacific Ocean, an effect that has earned the nickname, the Carlton rip, and this forms a rain shadow that protects the grapes in the critical weeks before harvest.

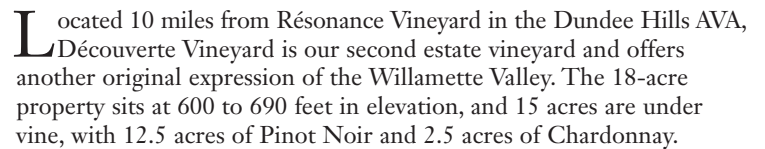

Sustaining a selection of Pommard, Dijon 777, and Wädenswil Pinot Noir, the soils are predominantly ancient, submarine basaltic sediment – shallow and particularly fine, almost silt-like. Extruded many years ago, the marine basalts form some of the oldest soils in Willamette Valley, and we believe they are one of the reasons the Résonance Vineyard produces grapes of such immense character.

The Résonance Vineyard Pinot Noir is complex, with notes of black cherry, blond tobacco, black truffle, violet flowers, and noble essences of wood. The palate reveals a perfect harmony between the tannic structure and the aromatic complexity, while the minerality gives a vibrant finale, suggesting a long life.

DÉCOUVERTE VINEYARD, DUNDEE HILLS

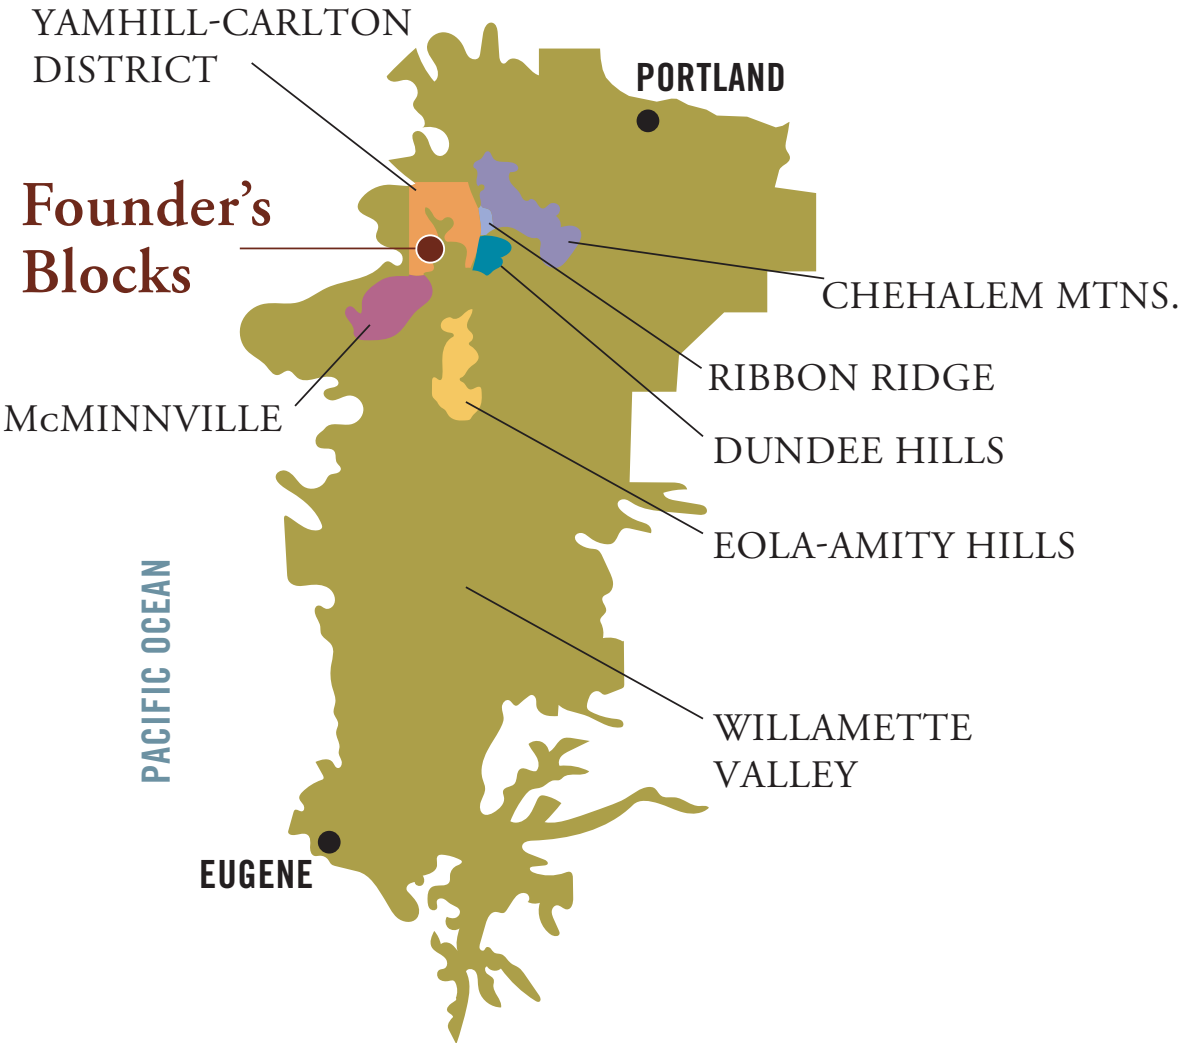

DÉCOUVERTE VINEYARD PINOT NOIR, DUNDEE HILLS, OR

The Découverte Vineyard Pinot Noir reveals an expressive nose of cherry, blackberries, wild mint, fresh licorice, and noble wood. Vibrant and energetic, the palate reveals a subtle balance and elegant floral notes. The finish is mineral driven, expressing the complexity of the Jory soil.

FOUNDER'S BLOCKS, YAMHILL-CARLTON

RÉSONANCE

FOUNDER'S BLOCKS PINOT NOIR, YAMHILL-CARLTON, OR

Founder's Blocks Pinot Noir is sourced from the finest blocks planted by the founders of Résonance Vineyard in Carlton and the adjacent Jolis Monts Vineyard developed by the Maison Louis Jadot team. Founder's Blocks reunites these properties that were once part of a singular estate, blending select blocks from Resonance vineyard with the plantings from Jolis Monts.

This inaugural 2021 vintage expresses the history of the land, the inspiration of the founders and the collaborative energy between Oregon and Burgundy as reflected in two reunited vineyards.

The nose is complex, with blackberry, lilac, black pepper, tobacco leaf, forest floor and noble wood fragrance. The palate reveals an elegant balance of ripe tannins, black fruits, vibrant minerality and long finish.
